What do you expect from your employer?

I am looking for a job that will allow me to develop my current skills.

Can you describe yourself (personality)?

I am an open, creative, conscientious person, having very good contact with children. I am also communicative and I feel confident in teamwork.

Why should we choose you?

I believe that in your team there will be a place for a creative and energetic animator with experience in working with children. I think that the skills that I was able to gain while working as a hotel animator will be useful for my further professional path, which I would like to start in your company.

I am a young, open-minded, communicative person, with a head full of ideas for spending time in an interesting way. I know many animation games, mini disco dances, I am also perfect for conducting manual or thematic classes. I had the opportunity to work for a year as an animator in a hotel by the Polish seaside, where I gained a lot of knowledge on how to organize an active holiday. My hobby is children's animations, but I would like to develop my competences, also in working with adults.

I think that what can distinguish me from other candidates is high personal culture, great contact with children, creativity and diligence. I put a lot of commitment into my work, and the most important thing for me is the smile and good fun of the participants.
